Boone Hall Quarters
Mount Pleasant Vicinity
Charleston County
South Carolina

Historical Data:

Boone hall was granted at the end of the 17th century to Major John Boone. The plantation was kept by the Boones until shortly before 1817. In that year it was purchased by John and Henry Horlbeck, builders from Charleston. In 1843 four of Henry Horlbeck's sons, to whom the management of Boone Hall had been entrusted, set out the avenue to the house and marked it with a marble slab. It is reasonable to assume that the substantial line of brick houses with pan-tile roofs, forming the negro-street, dates from about the same time.

A few years ago the property was bought by Mr. & Mrs. Thomas A. Stone, who built a handsome new house of bricks from the long abandoned kilns of Horlbeck's brickyard.
